ACADEMIC INTEGRITY Students are expected to conduct themselves in all aspects of the course at the highest level of academic integrity. Any student found to have committed academic misconduct will be dealt with according to the Faculty and University practices.

The Memorial University of Newfoundland Code is

All members of the Memorial University of Newfoundland Community, which includes students, faculty, and staff, shall treat others with respect and fairness, be responsible and honest, and uphold the highest standards of academic integrity.

The Faculty of Engineering and Applied Science's Code of Student Conduct is as follows

Like Professional Engineers, engineering students are expected to behave in a professional manner at all times. Students are encouraged to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with the PEG-NL Code of Ethics.

Memorial University has two sets of rules which deal with inappropriate behavior by students. The first set deals with academic offences such as cheating while the other set deals with non academic offences such as disruptive behavior in class.

Both sets of rules can be found in the University Calendar under Regulations. It is strongly recommended that students read and follow these rules because the penalties can be severe, the severest being expulsion from the University.

More information is available at www.engr.mun.ca/undergrad/academicintegrity, <http://www.engr.mun.ca/policies/codeofconduct.php>, <http://www.mun.ca/student/conduct/conduct.php> and in the graduate section of the calendar.

ACCOMODATION and DIVERSITY: Students who require physical or academic accommodations are encouraged to speak privately with the instructor so that appropriate arrangements can be made to ensure your full participation in the course. All conversations will remain confidential.

The university experience is enriched by the diversity of viewpoints, values, and backgrounds that each class participant possesses. In order for this course to encourage as much insightful and comprehensive discussion among class participants as possible, there is an expectation that dialogue will be collegial and respectful across disciplinary, cultural, and personal boundaries.

STUDENT AFFAIRS Student Affairs and Services offers help and support in a variety of areas, both academic and personal. More information can be found at www.mun.ca/student.

OTHER INFORMATION

- In case you must miss a quiz or exam because of illness, childbirth, or bereavement, please obtain a certificate from a doctor or funeral director at the earliest possible time.
- Academic dishonesty will, as a minimum, result in a mark of zero for the offending work. Academic dishonesty will be reported to the Associate Dean. Academic dishonesty includes copying from another student's work or allowing another student to copy from one's own work, consulting with any unauthorized person during an examination or test, using unauthorized aids, and presenting the ideas or works of another as one's own. If you have any doubt about whether something constitutes academic honesty, consult with the instructor.
- Asking questions is strongly encouraged.
- Comments, suggestions and constructive criticisms are always welcome.
